HERNDON, KY.

DECEMBER 3rd, 1886.

ED. KENTUCKIAN:

After having been shut out from communication with you for more than two weeks, it is again my privilege to inform you of the doings and misdoings of this locality.

Our usual shooting scrape took place on Saturday evening last. The place on Saturday evening last. The parties were a man named Ladd (white) who shot at Beargreed Davis, alias Stark, (col.) five times, it is said, without effect.

A bold robbery also occurred on the next night. The place on Saturday evening last. The parties were a man named Ladd (white) who shot at Beargreed Davis, alias Stark, (col.) five times, it is said, without effect.

Our neighbor Mrs. E. Fleming had the misfortune to lose her house and nearly all its contents by fire on the next two weeks ago. It is not known how it caught. It was worth three and perhaps four thousand dollars and I have been informed that the insurance companies will promptly and fairly respond to their obligations.

John Taylor, a young man raised in this neighborhood but at present living near Longview, was chopping in a new ground on Saturday last, and was struck on the head by a falling limb. His situation was deemed very critical for several days, but when last heard from he was reported as convalescing and it is now hoped he will be well again.

Died: At the residence of her husband near Howell, Ky., on Monday the 29th ult., Mary Wilkins, wife of Lafayette Wilkins, Esq., after a long and painful illness of more than two months. Mrs. Wilkins will be long and sadly missed in the community in which she has resided for more than thirty years.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and hence requires a constitutional treatment.

PEE DEE, CHRISTIAN CO. KY.

Dec. 5th, 1886.

Ed. South Kentuckian: Having heard nothing from this place, through the columns of your valuable paper, for some time, I thought I would let you my readers know how things are going out.

We had a very feeling and impressive ceremony by the Rev. J. W. Bigham, at the residence of Mr. C. Edwards, which united his daughter, Miss Lila, to Mr. William Carter, of Church Hill neighborhood, a very worthy young gentleman.

We had a very elegant and impressive sermon on fourth Lord's day, at Little River church, by the Rev. A. W. McEachern, who gave us a very timely and timely sermon.

While we are in the midst of joy and gladness we are overwhelmed with grief and distress as death has visited us with its icy hand and taken from our midst one of our best and oldest citizens, Mr. George Bush.

coming pure and active. Mrs. Bailey continued the S. S. until last February; every one was healed; she was disabled chair and crutches, and was for the first time in 12 years a well woman. Her husband, Mr. C. A. Bailey, is in business in 174, Blackstone Street, Boston and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.

Any one familiar with American novels would be apt to think from the description of American ladies that they were new-buttered when young and had been married. Boston ladies have been widely represented as all head and no heart, living in an atmosphere of metaphysical abstractions and utterly unfit to discharge the domestic duties of life.
